Syed Muzammil

has successfully completed the online Specialization

CSS

Learners have completed a comprehensive specialization designed to equip aspiring web developers with advanced web design skills. They have mastered CSS Flexbox and Grid for creating responsive layouts, utilized CSS variables for scalable and maintainable stylesheets, and applied responsive design principles with media queries to ensure compatibility across devices. Additionally, they gained expertise in Tailwind CSS for efficient UI development, created engaging user experiences with CSS animations, and developed practical knowledge of current design trends and tools for real-world applications.
